

Statement of originality

The undersigning DECLARE(S) under my (our) responsibility that the article called “ _____ ” submitted to the journal Historia Agraria for its review:

- Is an original text written by the signatory or signatories and has not been previously published (except as a working paper or a conference communication).
- It does not contain text that literally, transliterally or in abbreviated form has been taken from other publications drafted by the author(s).
- When use is made of data already published by the author(s) in the form of a table or graph, these are used solely to complement the paper’s reasoning, and a precise description is provided of the original publication. When these graphic features are protected by the intellectual property rights of third parties, the author(s) accept(s) the responsibility and the cost involved in obtaining permission to use them.
- The manuscript has not been simultaneously submitted to any other journal for its review nor will be during the time the review process lasts.
- If the manuscript is accepted for publication, it may be disclosed by the journal –to which the author(s) convey(s) their rights accordingly – in open access, under the licence Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives.

In witness whereof, I (we) hereby sign this statement in [place], on [day/month/year]
